GetLandingPages.com Launches A Rapid Turn-Around Landing Page Solution.

Savannah, Georgia, April 23, 2007- GetLandingPages.com launched today offering a service that provides affiliate marketing individuals and companies with custom landing page designs. The uniquely structured design process will save affiliates time and help them achieve better conversion rates. The unique service will initially be offered as a one size fits all custom landing page package priced at $99.95. The package includes a custom, fully coded landing page optimized to convert and final change capability, if requested.

“Our service allows individuals doing affiliate marketing and affiliate marketing companies to focus on the more important aspects of their campaigns because we have the landing pages covered. Before we launched, affiliates would generally hire freelancers to do design, who they found by word of mouth. The professional design structure of GetLandingPages fixes price and eliminates the searching, uncertainties and hassle.” said Donald Eddy, Co-Founder of GetLandingPages.com

The GetLandingPages.com process, for the first time, allows the customer to specify exactly what they want on their page, similar to choosing toppings on a pizza. Through this unique system, professional designers can then create exactly what the customer wants. Once a request is submitted a representative will confirm the order and concurrently establish the turn-around time. Within one to two business days the customer will receive a preview of their landing page by e-mail in .jpg format. When the preview is approved the landing page will be coded and the final coded version of the page is sent to the customer.

This service is currently offered for most types of landing pages, Ringtones, Dating, and Finance being just a few examples. GetLandingPages has attracted the attention of Affiliate Companies who require a large number of pages.
